The Auditors visited the Almshouse on Feb. 1st, 1890, and made a thorough examination and appraisal of all property belonging to the town. They found it in a neat and excellent condition and in their judgment receiving good care. The Auditors believed the time had come when a conservative valuation should be placed upon the property there found, which will account for the decreased valuation from former years.

REPORT OF BOARD OF WATER COMMISSIONERS.

The Board of Water Commissioners respectfully report, that by reason of the vote of the town referred to in their last annual report, and owing to the fact that the litigation between the town and the Braintree Water Supply Company is still pending, they have taken no steps towards extending the water works belonging to the town.

The second appropriation of $2,000.00 to the sinking fund has been invested in a new note of the town, the fund now amounting to $4,080.00.

The usual appropriation for interest on the water loan, and for the sinking fund will be required:

TRUSTEES' REPORT.

The past year has been one of marked prosperity with the Library. In the purchase of books, great care has been taken to select only those best calculated to interest and instruct, and, for the most part, such as have a permanent value. Important additions, also, have been made to our list of magazines for use in the reading room. The increased interest taken in the Library appears in the fact, that the number of borrowers of books exceeds that of the previous year by 211.

The value of such an institution as a part of our educational system can hardly be over estimated, and is being demonstrated more and more every year. Without the fostering care of the town, its influence for good would be greatly circumscribed. We earnestly bespeak for it the same liberal consideration which has been bestowed upon it in the past.

ENGINEER'S REPORT.

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen:

GENTLEMEN—In accordance with the rules and regulations governing Fire Departments, I have the honor to submit to you my annual report of the doings and conditions of the Department for the year ending January 31st, 1890, together with the number of members, fires, losses, and insurance, inventory of property belonging to the Department, and such suggestions as I deem of interest to the good working of the Department.

ENGINEERS' DEPARTMENT, ORGANIZED APRIL 18, 1889.

Chief Engineer, Edward O. Pierson; residence, Washington street, North Braintree.

First Assistant and Clerk, Frank O. Whitmarsh; residence, Shaw street, East Braintree.

Second Assistant, Marcus A. Perkins; residence, Hancock street, South Braintree.

FORCE OF THE DEPARTMENT.

The force of the Department consists of one chief and two assistants, and fifty-five (55) members, making a total of fifty-eight (58) men.

COMPANIES ORGANIZED FEBRUARY 6, 1889.

Union Hose Company, No. 1, John Duggan, Foreman,	15 men
Butcher Boy Hose Company, No. 2, J. F. Winslow, Foreman,	15 men
N. F. T. Hayden Hose Company, No. 3, W. D. Cushing, Foreman,	10 men
Wampatuck Hook and Ladder Company, No. 1, J. F. Gallivan, Foreman,	15 men

HOUSES.

The engine houses are in good repair, and need nothing done the coming year, except to keep them in good order, unless it should be decided to make some alterations.

APPARATUS.

The apparatus at present in service consists of two hand engines, two jumpers, one hose carriage and one hook and ladder truck.

HOSE.

There was at the commencement of the year 4,050 feet of hose, of which 550 feet have been condemned. As good hose is our main reliance, I would recommend purchasing 500 feet for the East village, which I think would give us a supply for a number of years. There was purchased during the year 500 feet of cotton rubber-lined hose for the South section of the town.

Description of hose in Department which is serviceable: 2,950 feet of cotton rubber-lined; 1,200 feet of rubber hose; 400 feet of leather hose, and 63 feet of suction hose.

INVENTORY OF PROPERTY

IN POSSESSION OF THE FIRE DEPARTMENT AND IN USE

FEBRUARY 1, 1889.

UNION HOSE COMPANY, No. 1.

One jumper, 1 hand engine, 28 feet suction hose, 750 feet cotton rubber-lined hose, 550 feet rubber hose, 200 feet leather hose, 6 spanners and belts, 5 axes, 4 fire buckets, 4 pipes, 4 nozzles, 3 lanterns, 3 ladders, 1 pole for horses, 2 fire hooks, 6 army coats, 50 badges, 1 hydrant wrench, 1 hydrant gate.

BUTCHER BOY HOSE COMPANY, No. 2.

One hand engine, 1 hose cart, 1 pole for horses, 1,100 feet of rubber-lined cotton hose, 300 feet rubber reliable, 450 feet rubber fair, 200 feet leather, 6 pipes, leading hose branch, 10 nozzles, 1 axe, 4 fire hats, 6 army coats, 4 fire buckets, 12 spanners and belts, 1 lantern, 5 ladders, 16 badges, 1 hydrant gate, 1 hydrant wrench, 2 hose hooks, 1 hatchet.

N. F. T. HAYDEN HOSE COMPANY, No. 3.

1,000 feet cotton rubber-lined hose, 2 pipes, 6 spanners with belts, 1 hydrant wrench, 1 hydrant gate, 2 nozzles.

WAMPATUCK HOOK AND LADDER COMPANY, No. 1.

One truck, 1 pole for horses, 8 ladders, 1 tongue, 17 buckets, 5 hooks, 2 axes, 2 hatchets, 3 forks, 3 lanterns, 5 army coats, 2 ladder dogs, 25 badges.

LIST OF FIRES.

The number of fires and alarms was six. Fires causing the greatest loss were: S. W. Hollis, May 8th; Alexander McGaw, July 13th. The losses during the year were in the aggregate $1,415.00; amount of insurance, $4,775.00.

FIRE LOSSES AND INSURANCE FOR 1889.

April 27. B. F. Smith's mill; cause, spontaneous combustion; loss, $100.00; fully insured.

May 8. S. W. Hollis' henry; cause, lamp explosion; loss, $450.00; no insurance.

July 13. Dwelling house in Mayflower Park, owned by A. McGaw; cause, explosion of kerosene oil stove; loss on house and contents, $850.00; fully insured.

January 31. Round-house at South Braintree, owned by Old Colony Railroad; cause, unknown; loss, $15.00; fully insured.

This has been a most remarkable year for fires. A part of the department have responded promptly, and have done their work systematically. In this age of relief valves, shut-off nozzles, etc., there is less excuse for damaging property by flooding building than formerly.

We have made quite an outlay for hose carriage, hose improvements, etc., which I believe to be true policy, for by doing a little each year for a few years the department will be got into such a shape that we shall have only the running expenses to provide for.

I would recommend that the members of the department be increased in pay, and that the appropriation be $1,700.00. I would recommend that the town appropriate the sum of $600.00 for the purchase of two more hose carriages for the South and East sections of the town.

A very important factor worthy of mention is the adoption of the Walworth automatic sprinklers in the several mills, which tend to help the Department, and save property. There have been two instances in this town, B. F. Smith's mill and Straus & Kinsley's mill, where the fire was entirely extinguished by their use.

The Board have purchased a hose carriage for the North part of the town, at a cost of $150.00.

CONCLUSION.

In conclusion, I would tender my thanks to your Honorable Board for their hearty co-operation, to the gentlemen of the Board of Engineers for the very able assistance rendered me on every occasion, and to those of the officers and members of the Department who have performed their duty in a prompt and faithful manner, hoping that in the future, as in the past, we shall all be as ready and willing to respond when duty calls, and always be as fortunate as in the year just closed.

Respectfully submitted,

EDWARD O. PIERSON,

Chief Engineer.

Article 24 was taken from the table.

The committee to whom was referred the subject of the erection of a High School building in the north part of the town made the following report:

MARCH 4, 1889.

Your committee beg leave to report that they have held a number of meetings and have listened to the representations of the North and East parts of the town, both as to present evils and the immediate demands of the future. The vote of the town appointing this committee seeming to infer that the rooms in the Town Hall devoted to the High School are unfit and inadequate, your committee find that, while they have served their purpose for many years, there has always been serious complaint from the citizens of the East on account of the distance, so that many girls and boys have been deprived of the advantages of a High School course. Benefits, however, which some parents have been able to give their children by sending them to Quincy or Weymouth.

It is represented that the health of boys and girls is endangered by the long walk in inclement weather, and a number of cases have been reported to your committee where hard working mechanics have preferred to pay the tuition in Weymouth rather than risk the health of their children. It is also stated that parties desirous to locate in East Braintree are often turned away when they learn of these disadvantages of location. It is also represented that the Town Hall is wholly needed for town purposes, for armory, for officers' rooms, and for use of the different town officers and committees.

In addition to these representations and of prime importance in itself is the fact that the High School is over crowded already, as are other school rooms, and with the prospect of a large addition to our population some steps must be taken to secure more accommodations.

The Middle Street School is already overflowing, and as its surplus naturally goes to the Union School, and as that schoolhouse can hold no more, it seems to the committee that the time has come to take the first steps to provide new quarters. Therefore, the committee recommend that the town secure a proper location in the North part of the town for a building to contain the High School and the overflow from the other schools in that part of the town. And as a site which is equally accessible from East Braintree and all parts of the South by railroad, they would recommend the location east of the First Parish Church, known as the Thayer estate.

W. H. SHAW,
JOHN KELLEY,
ALVA S. MORRISON,
A. J. BATES,
Committee.

Not signed by George D. Willis, P. D. Holbrook, Richard Arnold.

Voted, That the Committee on Street Lighting be requested to report at this time.

Said committee then made the following report, which was received and ordered to be placed on file:

REPORT.

The committee appointed by the town to consider and report upon the best method of lighting the public buildings and streets of the town, have given such consideration as possible during the limited time they have had the matter in charge. From the fact that we were not authorized to incur any expense, we have not visited other places or been able to examine the methods adopted, but from inquiries made, and from statements in the public press, we find that all the towns in this vicinity,—Dedham, Stoughton, Weymouth, Randolph, Holbrook, Hingham, Hyde Park, and the city of Quincy, and many other places,—are adopting some system of electric lighting; and this method is now generally acknowledged to be the best, as well as the most economical. We are not prepared to advise or recommend that the town take immediate action, but we are decidedly of the opinion that it is for the best interest of the town that at an early date the town should take steps to secure the lighting of our public streets and buildings by electricity; contracting with such parties as will furnish the best system at the lowest price.

JAMES T. STEVENS,
E. WATSON ARNOLD,

Committee.

Voted, That the committee be continued; and they are hereby instructed to make further investigation, and are authorized to incur such expense as they may deem necessary.

Voted, That Article 4 be laid on the table.

Article 5 taken up.

Voted, That the School Committee be requested to put water into such schoolhouses as they shall deem expedient.

Voted, That the Selectmen are hereby instructed to have water placed in the Town House.

Article 6 taken up.

Voted, That the subject matter of Article 6 be referred to the Water Commissioners, with full powers to make such extensions of the water pipes as they may deem necessary; provided, that the same can be done without prejudice, or in any way affecting the legal rights of the town in proceedings now pending before commissioners for settlement of matters between the town and the Braintree Water Supply Company.

Voted, To adjourn.

In accordance with the foregoing warrant, the meeting was called to order, and the warrant read by the Town Clerk.

A ballot was then taken, with the use of the check-list, and Asa French was declared elected Moderator, and sworn by the Town Clerk.

ART. 2. The committee on lighting the town made the following report, namely:

Your committee in June last made a partial report upon the subject matter referred to them, at which time the town took no definite action, other than to refer the matter back to us, with instructions to make a more extended investigation. Since that time we have given the subject much thought and attention, and have consulted with parties actually engaged in the business of electric and gas lighting, and also with individuals and the authorities of other towns which have adopted one or the other of the various systems in vogue. We are confirmed in the opinion we then expressed, that it is for the best interest of the town that at an early date it should take steps to secure the lighting of our streets and public buildings by electricity; and while by law, towns are authorized to establish plants for their own purposes, they are prohibited from selling or furnishing light or power to the people, either for business purposes or for private houses, which is an important element in the revenue to be derived in connection with the establishment of an electric plant. We therefore are decidedly of the opinion that for the town to attempt to do the work without this right would be much more costly and expensive than to contract with some established company now formed, or to be formed, securing, as we said before, the best system at the lowest price; the whole matter to be decided by competition.

At the present time there are two methods, or systems, one known as the arc light, and the other comprising a series of lights, or the incandescent system. Most of the towns in Massachusetts where contracts have been made have adopted the arc system; but your committee believe that the series of lights of the incandescent system has great merit, and some advantages, and can be furnished at no greater price than the cost of the arc light, and prove more satisfactory to our people. There is but one town, so far as we can learn, that has established its own plant, and that is the town of Danvers; and as, under the law, it had no authority to supply its citizens with light or power, the expense was so great that the town petitioned the last Legislature for authority so to do; but the Legislature not only refused to assist, but also refused to pass a general law conferring that right upon all the towns and cities.

So far as towns have entered into contracts with established companies, the cost to each shows a very wide margin, caused principally by the extent of territory to be covered, and the number of miles of wire and poles required. Some months ago certain citizens of Braintree petitioned the Selectmen for a franchise to establish and operate an electric plant in this town, they having in view, as we are assured, the organization of a company comprising such of our citizens from the different sections of the town as were willing to invest their capital in such an enterprise, and also to secure this right to our own town's people, rather than allow it to go into outside hands. No hearing was given by the Selectmen until a company, formed and organized under the general laws, obtained a charter from the State. This company, comprising gentlemen resident in other towns, made application to the Selectmen for a franchise. A hearing was had, at which time, by concurrence of all parties, the matter was deferred for action until this committee reported at a town meeting called for the purpose.

We believe it for the best interest of the town, present and future, that this right should be given to our own citizens, if they are willing to invest their money, and give such guarantees as the town may require that they will establish an adequate and proper system, and our people supplied with good light and power, and on as reasonable terms and conditions as enjoyed by other towns; giving reasonable, but satisfactory, bonds to protect the town from any and all liability to persons and property. We believe in a general and comprehensive system, embracing the whole town, and that the granting of private rights, involving the use of our public streets, is detrimental and injurious to the best interests of the people as a whole, because the granting of such privileges seriously interfere with a systematic system for street lighting, embracing all parts of the town, and will ultimately involve the town in a largely increased expense, by compelling it to establish and maintain an independent plant for that purpose.

As the result of our investigation, based on the results in other towns, we are of the opinion that contracts can be made, securing a comprehensive system of street lighting, embracing the principal streets of the three villages, at a cost of about $3,000 annually. Such a contract, while it will be advantageous for the town in its corporate capacity, will also enable our citizens and business establishments to have both power and light on reasonable terms. And we recommend that the Selectmen be authorized and empowered to ascertain upon what terms contracts can be made embracing the streets to be covered, and report at some future meeting. And we further recommend that the town grant a franchise to responsible parties to engage in the work.

JAMES T. STEVENS,
L. O. CROCKER,
E. WATSON ARNOLD,

Committee.

Voted, That the above report be accepted.

Voted, That it is the sense of this meeting that a franchise for an electric light company be granted by the Selectmen to any organization owned by citizens of Braintree; provided, the Selectmen shall receive satisfactory assurance from said petitioners that the work will be prosecuted and completed at the earliest practicable date, and upon such terms and conditions as they deem necessary to protect the public interests; provided, that if such franchise is granted, it shall be on the express condition that such franchise shall not be sold or assigned to any other company or organization without the assent of the citizens of the town.

Voted, To adjourn.

Town Clerk.

ART. 2. Moved that the article be accepted and adopted.

Resolved, That it is the sense of this meeting, that all matters in dispute should be speedily settled, not only to stop legal expenses, consistent with equity and justice, but that the town may be enabled to secure possession of the works, operate and manage the same and make such extensions of the system of pipes as may be required by the necessities of the people; and

REPORT OF SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

In accordance with the time-honored custom for your Committee to render an account of their stewardship at the close of the fiscal year; and also to make such suggestions and recommendations as in their judgment would be beneficial for the advancement of education, we herewith respectfully submit the school report for 1889-90.

From the detailed report of appropriations and expenditures it will be seen, that in a small amount, we have exceeded our appropriations.

The excess in expenditures was caused by the extensive repairs needed on school buildings and also by the loss of our State school fund, which we are not now entitled to since the town has increased in valuation to over $3,000,000.

APPROPRIATIONS, 1889-1890.

Town appropriations for schools,	$9,100 00
Town school fund,	$400 00
Income from Massachusetts school fund, .	26 55
Dog tax,	760 40
	1,186 95
Incidentals for schools,	300 00
Incidentals for schoolhouses,	800 00
Text-books and supplies,	700 00
Superintendent's salary,	1,200 00
Total,	$13,286 95

EXPENDITURES.

For schools,	$10,107 90
Incidentals for schools,	637 46
Incidentals for schoolhouses,	1,044 26
Text-books and supplies,	571 51
Superintendent's salary,	1,000 00
<hr/>
Total,	$13,361 13

ESTIMATES FOR THE ENSUING YEAR.

Schools (in addition to income from school funds and dog tax),	$9,500 00
Text-books and supplies,	700 00
Incidentals for schools,	300 00
Incidentals for schoolhouses,	1,100 00
Superintendent's salary,	1,200 00
For conveying pupils to and from the public schools,	200 00

At present the school property of the town is in quite good condition; but a judicious expenditure must be made yearly, if we would have it best serve its purpose.

An increased appropriation for schoolhouses is asked for this year, to meet the expenses which will be caused by necessary repairs upon the various school buildings, summarized as follows:

Pond School building, for shingling	$200 00
Union School building, for painting,	125 00
Iron Works building, for new floor in upper rooms,	175 00
West School building, for new floor,	50 00

The second primary school rooms, in both the Pond and Union buildings, are over-crowded and more seating room is needed.

We recommend that an addition be made to the buildings or a room be procured outside.

The increase of salaries, which the Committee took upon themselves to grant to the teachers, has produced good results.

The teachers seem to realize that their work is better appreciated and they are giving faithful service.

We recommend that the town appropriate a sum, not exceeding $200, to be expended, in the discretion of the Committee, for conveying pupils to and from the public schools.

We recommend the building of a new schoolhouse in the East part of the town, for the purpose of uniting under one roof the children of that section. It has been proved now beyond doubt, that better results can be obtained by having a sufficient number of pupils brought together in one building, to enable a thorough system of gradation to be used.

The present buildings in use, viz.: The Iron Works and East schoolhouses, are poorly lighted and ill adapted to the present educational needs.

A central location should be selected by the town, and a new building erected thereon, thoroughly fitted with all the latest appliances.

This is a needed improvement and should be made as soon as the town feels able to appropriate a sum sufficient to accomplish the object in a satisfactory manner.

HEATING SCHOOL BUILDINGS.

We desire to call the attention of the town to the question of heating our large school buildings.

At present we use stoves in the three graded school buildings, which necessitates the keeping twelve separate fires—one in each room—and then the teachers complain of being unable to keep a proper temperature on very cold days.

We recommend the adoption of some better method of heating which would require the keeping of but one fire in each building.

The cost of putting in three furnaces would be about $800.

The use of a furnace would secure a better means of ventilation and also cause much less dirt and dust, as well as result in the saving of fuel. It is certainly desirable to discontinue the present mode of heating.

GENERAL CONDITION OF SCHOOLS.

From an enumeration of our material needs, we turn with much satisfaction to a report of the status of our teaching force.

During the year, several changes have been made. Mr. Hunt, our former Superintendent, left us to fill a similar position at Clinton, Mass. Our present Superintendent, Mr. Fearing, comes to us from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Boston.

Although he has been with us but a few months, he shows a familiarity with his work and seems to be laboring in the right direction. We are willing to testify to the general good work being done by most of our teachers. This, we think, is due to the keen interest taken by the teachers themselves, and also to the systematic and intelligent arrangement of their work by the Superintendent.

While we are pleased to note that some schools are doing excellent work and are struggling hard to reach the mark required by the Committee, others, we regret to state, have in their work and discipline fallen far below a reasonable, general average.

As a result of such a condition of things, several changes have been made in our corps of teachers.

Under the present course of work, we believe that our schools are advancing, in the right direction, as good results are seen on all sides.

There are many improvements that might be made in our school system which the best methods of progressive education demand, and which in time should be adopted.

But abrupt changes in educational systems require the expenditure of a great deal of money. It is our desire to do as much for the benefit of our schools, as possible, in the way of increasing educational facilities; yet, at the same time we feel justified in exercising a certain degree of conservatism, although not to an extent to interfere with the progressiveness of the age.

If parents and friends would only visit the schools, they would be surprised and greatly impressed with the practical and intelligent work done in all grades. They would more fully realize that a wise expenditure of public money for the cultivation of the keen, alert, young minds in our midst is a noble work for the town.

While rejoicing that our future material prospects are rapidly improving, our obligations as a town must not be forgotten; they are binding upon us, and we ought to realize that to do our part and make our republic greater, we should foster the institutions which promote intellectual growth.

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT.

To the School Committee of Braintree,

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:

In making to you the fifth annual report of the Superintendent of Schools, I feel compelled by the brevity of my service to confine myself very closely to the present condition and needs of the schools, and to indicate only in a general way the policy of administration that impresses me as the wisest to follow. To this some tables of statistics are appended.

The general condition of the schools is to be commended; for it indicates that much hard work has been done to bring them to the present degree of system and proficiency. To change from old, established ways to those that are new and comparatively untried is always a difficult, and often a hazardous, undertaking.

Our schools seem to be in the midst of a transition period from the old to the new.

The old ways are fast disappearing in obedience to the popular cry; "modern methods" are rapidly taking their place.

Nevertheless we should be careful to retain the good things in the old ways, and not to accept everything simply because it bears the stamp of newness. Much has already been done, but much remains to be done. Let us not be misled, however, by the notion that the so-called "modern methods" are all new. There is not much about them that is considered really new by the present generation of educators; they are from 50 years to 2200 years old, and are new only to us and in our application of them to our modern needs.

THE COURSE OF STUDY.

In the course of study as at present conducted, it is contemplated that the pupils will graduate from the Grammar schools in eight years. That is, the child of fair scholarship is expected to be ready to enter the High School at the age of thirteen. As a matter of fact, the average age of the present classes in the High School at the time of their entrance was as follows: of the Senior Class, fourteen years; of the Middle Class, fourteen years and four months; of the Junior Class, fourteen years and five months. Only twenty-four of the seventy-nine present members entered the High School before they were fourteen years old. This indicates very conclusively that we are trying to do more than can well be accomplished in a given time. In those towns where the best results are obtained, nine years are given to the Grammar and lower grades; so that the pupils are not expected to enter the High School until they are fourteen years of age.

What is gained by this endeavor to save a year, is of very doubtful benefit.

On the other hand, it is certainly working a grave injury by requiring pupils to pass from one subject to another before the former one is well mastered. The result is that, in spite of the exertions made, the pupil loses a large portion of what he has attempted to acquire; he is poorly fitted for High School work; and parents, teacher, and pupil alike feel vexed and disappointed.

There are limits to the mental capacity of youth which we must be careful not to over-reach. I believe that this question of time is sufficient to account for many of the present defects in the schools, and I earnestly hope that the Board will speedily consider it.

Much good work is being done in the several branches of study; and, with the exception of reading, language, drawing, and music, I will not offer special criticisms of them in this report.

READING.

Reading has a very good beginning in the lowest grades, but the ease and natural expression brought out there are not well sustained in the other grades. This seems to be largely due to insufficient study of the art of reading. In the attempt to read rapidly and at sight, clear articulation and correct inflection are often unheeded. The supplementary reading is used excessively and somewhat aimlessly.

I would suggest that there be a daily drill in elocutionary exercises; regular lesson studies in the standard readers; silent reading, of which oral or written abstracts shall be required; and a more judicious use of supplementary readers.

LANGUAGE.

In language, the general aim seems to be excellent, but the details of the course lack in the definiteness and continuity essential to orderly progress.

The work of the Intermediate grades, especially, is much confused. A sharper and more careful distinction should be preserved between the several divisions of grammar and composition work. Some of the composition work is not well adapted to the capacity of the pupils, and needs to be changed.

There is no branch of study more important to the people in general than that of the language we use.

Not only are all other branches of learning dependent upon good language, but it is also so inseparably connected with all our thinking that, if we are unable to use it intelligently, we suffer in the power of close and discriminating thought, and fall into many misunderstandings and humiliations in our business and social relations.

DRAWING.

Drawing should be the means of training the eye to quick and accurate observation, and the hand to habits of neatness and precision; of expressing thought in many cases in which words would be inadequate; of stimulating invention and imagination; and of cultivating good taste.

As at present conducted, the instruction in this branch falls far short of these desirable results. The services of a special teacher of drawing are urgently needed.

MUSIC.

The good effects of what was accomplished in music last year will soon be lost, notwithstanding the endeavors of some teachers, if that subject is allowed to fall into neglect through non-support. Can we afford to neglect it longer? It is the universal tongue of emotion and sentiment; and certainly the mind needs a wholesome training in these directions as well as in the purely intellectual. The remarkable influence that noble song exerts upon armies, upon homes, and upon the whole trend of civilization is to be cherished and extended.

What appeals to the heart, quickens the sympathies, elevates the sentiments, like the sweet song of a little child? It seems to me a few hundred dollars can not be more wisely expended than for special instruction in music.

ORDER AND ATTENDANCE.

Good order is fairly maintained in all the rooms at the present time, and in some rooms it is admirable. In some instances, however, the tact and patience of the teacher have been severely tried. The support of the teacher's efforts, by the parents, is of great value in this matter.

The attendance at school has suffered much interruption from the prevalent influenza, and in consequence it will be more difficult to accomplish the full amount of work necessary for the annual promotions.

There appears also to be too much irregularity in attendance, from other causes.

I am persuaded by an investigation of many cases, that an absence, a tardiness, or a dismission, before the close of the session might often be prevented by a little forethought. The good effect of calling the attention of the parent to the matter, in a number of cases, confirms me in this opinion.

PATRONAGE.

The time is rapidly approaching when it will be necessary to improve and increase the accommodations of the schools. Several rooms are already crowded to repletion.

The property interests of the town, as well as the educational, would be enhanced by liberal expenditures upon school buildings and grounds.

The presentation of national flags to several of the schools, by public-spirited citizens, is a laudable precedent for similar action in other directions. It would conduce much to the interest and refinement of the pupils, as well as to the general appearance of the community, if the efforts of teachers and pupils to keep a flower in the window could be supplemented by the adornment of the schoolhouse yards with lawns and flowers and shrubbery.

The hearty co-operation of the parents is also solicited in requiring the pupils to exercise care for school property.

It seems to me that, in some cases, there is a needless waste, due to carelessness and thoughtlessness, particularly of the books and supplies so liberally furnished by the town. The reflection that undue waste increases expenditures, and consequently the appropriations, I am sure, will help to abate the evil.

The perennial invitation to parents to visit their own schools frequently and familiarly is again extended. How can they appreciate what is going on in the school room, without seeing for themselves?

And how long shall the children wait for that encouragement which can come only from an interest on the part of the fathers and mothers, strong enough to go and see them at their work?

THE HIGH SCHOOL.

A careful examination of the condition of the High School leads me to ask your attentive consideration of its needs.

In the first place, the course of study is neither well defined nor properly adjusted; and in some respects it does not correspond with the requirements of law.

Aside from English Literature, the course presents only a poor opportunity for acquiring needed attainments in English language.

As in the course for the lower schools so in this, the time allowed is insufficient for the required work. There is need of a thorough revision of the course of study, and I would recommend that it be arranged so as to require four years for its completion.

The facilities for the best methods of instruction are very inadequate. "The highest method of school-work," says Dr. Harris, the present United States Commissioner of Education, and an acknowledged authority, "is the method of investigation."

This method demands ample accommodations and good appliances, in both of which we are decidedly deficient.

The size of the school and the requirements of the course call for an additional teacher, in order to secure the best results.

The crowded limits of the present accommodations will probably make some change imperative before another year passes, and I trust you will embrace the opportunity to introduce such changes as will produce a first-class High School.

I am convinced that there is need of it and that there is room for it. And I am assured there will be no occasion for its conflicting with the interests of Thayer Academy; on the contrary, such a change will be to the advantage of that institution.

Do not the reasons for the maintenance of a first-class High School apply as well to Braintree as to any of the towns comprehended in the foundation of Thayer Academy? Any other view appears to me prejudicial to the interests of our schools.

INDUSTRIAL TRAINING.

The present agitation of the subject of manual training brings us face to face with several important considerations.

Ought the state to engross those years of youth which would otherwise be spent in acquiring practical wisdom or in learning some useful occupation, without substituting a fair equivalent of the same kind? Why do so few boys complete the High School course? Of what practical benefit is the High School course to a young man who must depend upon his hands for a living?

Space forbids an extended discussion of these questions here; but a suggestion may be in order.

The manual training school of the cities is not yet adapted to the needs of the public schools of towns. Even in cities it is hardly an unqualified success. But is there not an actual need in our system of education, not well provided for? I refer to a methodical training of the eye and the hand (of which drawing is a beginning); to forming more correct notions of distance and direction; to practical measurements and estimates; to the ability to distinguish and select materials,—as kinds of wood, of metals, of textile fabrics; to planning work and economizing materials; and to the orderly development of ingenuity.

THE SUPERINTENDENT'S DUTIES.

In order to correct some misapprehensions and to supply more definite information concerning the duties of the Superintendent of Schools in this town, it has seemed to me that it would not be out of place to insert a somewhat detailed statement of them in this report. These duties may be conveniently classed under three heads,—mercantile, pedagogical, and executive.

The mercantile duties are to purchase text-books and supplies; to distribute them as needed to the several schools; to keep an account of them; to draw the money and pay for them; to make out and approve the regular bills of the teachers and the janitors; and to keep the accounts of the School Committee. There are at present over ninety different books on our list, besides about seventy-five kinds of articles called supplies.

To perform these duties with accuracy and with economy, requires the same expenditure of time and energy that a merchant would make in doing the same work.

The pedagogical duties call upon the Superintendent to visit the schools as a professional teacher; to study their condition and needs; to elaborate the course of study and adapt it to the various grades; to determine and apply the best methods of instruction; to examine and select appropriate books and apparatus; to assist the teachers by suggestion and advice; and to seek constantly for improvements.

In the faithful performance of these duties, it is incumbent upon him to attend educational gatherings, to study the methods employed and work done in the schools of other towns, to read much, and to think more.

It is also necessary for him to hold meetings of the teachers for the discussion and application of measures and methods.

By his executive duties, the Superintendent is charged with the observance of the laws regulating school attendance and instruction; the admission, transfer, and grading of pupils; the preparation and conduct of examinations; the requirements of good discipline and thorough and efficient instruction by the teachers; the general oversight of buildings, grounds, and other school property, and of the care taken of them; the inspection of registers, records, and reports; the receiving and disposal of complaints; the closing of the schools in inclement weather; the supplying of temporary teachers; and the preparation to meet every emergency with promptness. In short, he must keep the schools in running order and insist upon a fair amount of good work.

Such, in substance, I understand to be the meaning of the statute providing for the appointment of a "superintendent, who, under the direction and control of said [school] committee, shall have the care and supervision of the public schools."

GENERAL POLICY.

The mental habits acquired by the pupil through the drill and discipline connected with his daily instruction are of more consequence to the future citizen than any particular amount of information gained, important as that may be.

Our course of study should be arranged and adapted to the needs of the citizen as an end, and to investigation, memorizing, and training, as methods.

There are three considerations which should have weight in this connection. There should be enough of physical care and training to counteract any ill effects arising from confinement in the schoolroom, and any tendencies to incorrect form. All instruction, without neglecting those directions in which the mind of the pupil is naturally active, should include special attention to the weaker faculties, in order that he may develop fully in all directions. And thirdly, advancement should depend almost entirely upon proficiency in essentials, non-essentials being taken into account only in cases of doubtful merit.

It is also of the utmost importance to arouse and sustain a laudable desire for self-improvement and exemplary character. To this end, we must inculcate "sincerity, good humor, and all social affections, and generous sentiments"—a work in which the teacher's kindly precepts and attractive and worthy example are indispensable, and the exercise of parental authority and co-operation is priceless.

Finally, I believe that no public institution is nearer to the hearts of the people than is the public school; and that they will do every reasonable thing to improve it. Still further, I believe that, while they are rightly jealous of extravagance, they are willing to pay a fair price for a good thing, and to treat the school as liberally as the home.

Actuated by the views thus briefly outlined and relying upon this faith in the good-will of the people, I desire that my service here shall be devoted to revising, systematizing, and supplementing the work already done, and to bringing our schools to that high standing where they will not merely compare favorably with the schools of other communities, but will also achieve the grand purpose for which they exist—a thorough preparation for American citizenship.

To the kindness and patience of the Honorable Board, I am already much indebted.

Respectfully submitted,

C. W. FEARING.
